Dear Parents/Carers,

This year at J H Godwin we are working on building our learning powers! Learning powers are the key skills needed to help us tackle everyday challenges and there is a new focus every half term/term. We have worked on these skills throughout the year and have used the language throughout the day, which is helping the children to discover their strengths and build confidence in new areas.

Last term, the children looked at the power of perseverance and we are now seeing the children using a range of strategies to help them in challenging situations. It's great to see and hear the 'I can' attitude around our school.

Our learning power this term is 'noticing' and the children are learning how to, recognise when someone is feeling upset or needs help, recognise patterns and retell stories and experiences in detail.

To reinforce this at home, look out for any occasion when you can encourage or celebrate your child noticing. Feel free to come and share these experiences with your child's teaching staff.

Thanks for your support,

The Building Learning Powers Team.
